COOL FRED A. FOR GOVERNOR

While the Mexican Ledger would be delighted to have a business man of varied experience as governor of the great state of Missouri, we should regret exceedingly to lose our friend, Col. F. A. Morris from the activities of good old Mexico. We surely would miss Fred's smiling countenance and "kidding" ways.

Really, we always regret to see a high class, prosperous, young business man get into politics. On the other hand, we can't expect to have the best class of men for officers unless the best class of men are willing to accept. We are for Colonel Fred "both ways from the middle," no matter whether he stays in Mexico or goes to Jefferson City, or Washington.

ALTOGETHER FOR A DAIRY

The Mexico Ledger trusts that J. W. Lee will take charge of the dairy proposition for Mexico, as we feel confident he is in every way well qualified for this important undertaking. Not only the people of Mexico, but the people of Audrain County generally should be glad to cooperate with Mr. Lee in this enterprise, as it will be worth thousands of dollars to the county as a whole. The dairy interests of Audrain County are becoming more and more important every year, and with a little careful management should prove one of our most successful and beneficial enterprises. A first class dairy would go a long way toward making Mexico a city, and will result in the expenditure of large sums of money with the farmers of the county. That's the way to bring prosperity to a community.

KILLING A GOOD TOWN

Along the line of trying to kill a good town by knocking and fault finding, the Fulton, Mo. Sun editorially says:

"In a recent local option election held in the northern part of the state we are told that an alleged letter was published, claimed to have been written by a citizen of Monroe City, telling that town by the county going dry. The letter said that business was wrecked, there was no improvement being made, the weeds were growing high along the streets and the town going to the bad generally. We have been pretty intimately acquainted with the town for more than thirty-five years and made a visit to it the other day to see how badly it was wrecked. We found the wreck so bad that notwithstanding the fact that the city had in the last two years put in a municipal system of water and sewer system, that they were now tearing up the business streets and had tractors and teams plowing them up so that a concrete paved street could be put in with a tarvis top. Many of the residence streets, which had been graveled a number of years ago, were being covered again with macadam. In the last year a number of handsome new houses had gone up in new additions which had been opened, and we learned that there was not a vacant house in the town and parties desiring to move in were unable to procure homes. It is really too bad for a little city of two thousand inhabitants to be so utterly put out of business in that way because saloons were voted out."

SOMETHING should be done about the constantly recurring leaden collisions between the reports from the rival war offices.

POSTMASTER JACKSON is home from the big Hamilton, Mo. Democratic Rally where he went to boom Col. F. A. Morris for governor of Missouri. Some Mexico people are surprised that Postmaster Jackson did not announce himself as a candidate for that office before he got home.

THE CHARM OF MOTHERHOOD

Enhanced by Perfect Physical Health.

The experience of Motherhood is a trying one to most women and marks distinctly an epoch in their lives. Not one woman in a hundred is prepared or understands how to properly care for herself. Of course nearly every woman nowadays has medical treatment at such times, but many approach the experience with an organism untrained for the trial of strength, and when it is over her system has received a shock from which it is hard to recover. Following right upon this comes the nervous strain of caring for the child, and a distinct change in the mother's routine.

There is nothing more charming than a happy and healthy mother of children, and indeed child-birth under the right conditions need be no hazard to health or beauty. The unexplainable thing is that, with all the evidence of childbearing, nerves and broken health resulting from an unprepared condition, and with ample time in which to prepare, women will persist in going blindly to the trial.

Every woman at this time should rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism.

In many homes once children there are no children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound makes women normal, healthy and strong.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a "old hand" in strict confidence.

ENDLESS CORN CROP

UNDER the heading of the "three billion corn crop" the Breckers' Gazette of Chicago, says:

Nobody knows how good or how bad a given the Department of Agriculture can make as to the total yield of the great crops. A three-billion-bushel production of corn for 1915 is assumed. It has been a dry-land year. The best crops are on the upland. Even the dry-farmers of the west have a lot to show this season for their labor. This is due of course to an exceptional general precipitation. What these venturesome ones may get in the future time alone can tell. For one thing, let us all be duly thankful: a providentially favorable September matured many a field of corn that stood in imminent danger from frost. What proportion of the corn will measure up to standard commercial grades remains to be seen.

That there is a lot of soft grain is obvious. Those whose lands increase drainage and some who have light yields through the operation of unfavorable conditions beyond their control, will not be specially consoled by this three-billion-bushel boast. The country at large, however, is to be congratulated on such an extraordinary general result in agricultural wealth.

With a record of wheat, no end of oats and luxuriant forage, there seems little in sight but the "strangle hold" of foot-and-mouth restrictions to start an unprecedented wave of prosperity. Everything waits on a clean bill of health all around. Speed the day! And whatever you do, do not interpose opposition. It is too expensive.

SPEAKER CLARK FOR REASONABLE DEFENSE

HON. CHAMP CLARK, Speaker of the House, is not in favor of an immense standing army or the best navy in the world, but favors a reasonable and efficient defense. The New York World, approving of Speaker Clark's position on this matter, editorially says:

"Judging from Champ Clark's letter to The World's Washington correspondent on this subject, the President is wise in asking a conference with the Speaker on the subject of national defense. Fully aware of the importance of preparedness, Mr. Clark has neither lost his head nor his humanity."

Probably the greatest of our needs, as he views the matter, is men trained for military command. To this end he would double the number of cadets at West Point, detail army officers to schools and colleges as instructors, and by suitable legislation provide for a National Guard which in case of need would embrace at least 2,000 citizen soldiers, to some extent drilled and disciplined.

Preparation of this kind, of course, is antagonistic to the lurid schemes of excited or interested persons who recommend a great standing army and the largest navy in the world, but Mr. Clark recognizes, as most Americans do, the necessity of promoting a sane efficiency."

THE most optimistic man in the Republican party is Chairman Hilles, who professes to entertain the belief that there is as much Republican interest in the 1916 nomination than there was in that 1912, when Messrs. Taft and Roosevelt had each other by the ears. Mr. Hilles names only a few aspirants, but simply to read the list embracing Burton, Weeks, Sherman, Cummins, Borah, Smith, Burnham and others is almost enough to start a run of fever.

STATE Highway Engineer Frank Buffum was in Mexico this week, and informed the Ledger that some of the Audrain County roads need work badly and needed it right away. He says he doesn't understand why the county does not buy a modern road grader, and keep it going during this kind of weather day and night. Mr. Buffum says there is no excuse for Audrain not having as good roads as there are in the state, if not better.

AUDRAIN County has never had a lot of governor for the grand old State of Missouri, and his name was C. H. Hardin, founder of Hardin College, and one of Missouri's sterling citizens who gave the state one of the very best administrations we have ever had, when he was chief executive about forty years ago. Don't you think it is about time that we had another governor hailing from the best town in the best county in the state? Go on in, Colonel Fred, the water's fine.

MRS. GEORGE ROBERTSON, of Mexico, one of the most active workers in the Presbyterian Church in Missouri has been elected president of the Presbytery which met in Fulton this week. A high honor well conferred.

IF everybody would settle all their accounts on the first of each month, money would be easy in Mexico, and we would sure enough have good times.

MRS. KELLY ROBERTS DEAD. Mrs. Kelly Roberts, 41 years old, died at her home in south Mexico, Saturday night, after a lingering illness of two years from tuberculosis. The funeral was from the home at 2:30 Monday afternoon. The Rev. O. O. Green conducted the services. The body was laid to rest in Elmwood cemetery.

Mrs. Roberts was the daughter of Wm. Pratt and leaves two brothers, Ed and Harry and a sister, Mrs. Bertie Helford, of Sedalia. She also leaves her husband, The Ledger joins friends in extending sympathy to the bereaved. The pallbearers were: Chas. Flittner, Clay Patrick, Chas. Stratton, Jerry Dermody, Walter Sannebeck and Albert Hendrix.

A marriage license was issued Wednesday to John W. Pauley, of Auxvauze, and Miss Luella Waters, of Mexico.

JUDGE BARNETT ASKS FOR A SPECIAL GRAND JURY

A petition from Circuit Judge D. Barnett was filed with Circuit Clerk Epps F. Elliott, Thursday October 28, asking the Audrain County Court to call a grand jury for the November term of the Circuit Court which convenes Monday Nov. 22.

The Grand Jury is the result of the petition presented Judge Barnett from Mexico and Ladonia requesting an investigation of alleged violations of the local option and gambling laws in Audrain county.

The petitions and call for the Grand Jury are on file in the office of Circuit Clerk Elliott. The calling of the Grand Jury, which ordinarily convenes regularly in March, comes as a complete surprise.

Chamberlain's Tablets. This is a medicine intended especially for stomach troubles, biliousness and constipation. It is meeting with success and rapidly gaining in favor and popularity. Obtainable everywhere.

Mitchell White Lectures at Vandalia. During the big carnival at Vandalia last week, addresses were made by Sam Jordan and Mr. Kempton, on poultry; and Mr. McKee of the University on dairying; Dr. Waters of the University on Medical Inspection of Public Schools; while Mrs. Green, expert on the "best tables," made a talk on Training Girls for Motherhood. Referring to this lecture course, the Vandalia Leader says:

"Following Mrs. Green, Mr. Mitchell White, junior editor of the Mexico Ledger delivered a fine address on the Boy Scout movement. Mr. White is an enthusiast on this important work. He is a most pleasant speaker of the conversational type, and without doubt very earnest and sincere in his activity in this great character building work."

Vandalia is without an organization of the Boy Scouts. Mr. White offers his services without cost at any time that it is desired to organize one here, or any time any of the rural schools should desire to form a Boy Scout Band."

The Mail, referring to the same meeting, adds: "After these series of lectures a most instructive lecture by Mitchell White, junior editor of the Mexico Ledger, on Boy Scouts, was given. This was a lecture that was heartily appreciated and enjoyed. Mitchell is one of our finest young men and is rapidly forging his way to the front. He is intensely interested in boys, and is in demand everywhere for lectures and talks in how to handle boys."

Beware of Cheap Substitutes. In these days of keen competition it is important that the public should see that they get Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and not take substitutes sold for the sake of extra profit. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has stood the test and been approved for more than forty years. Obtainable everywhere.

"They All Come Back." Roy E. Cable, formerly of Mexico, now of Windsor, Wisconsin, on November 3rd is going to have an enormous big auction sale of a large lot of live stock and farm machinery, grain etc. As Roy is selling out in Wisconsin, we hope he will come back to Mexico. We hope "they all come back," and Roy as a live wire can help make a bigger and better city.

Distress in the Stomach. There are many people who have a distress in the stomach after meals. It is due to indigestion and easily relieved by taking one of Chamberlain's Tablets after meals. Mrs. Henry Padgham, Victor, N. Y., writes: "For some time I was troubled with headache and distress in my stomach after eating, also with constipation. About six months ago I began taking Chamberlain's Tablets. They regulated the action of my bowels and the headache and other annoyances ceased in a short time." Obtainable everywhere.

Speak at Moberly. E. A. Shannon and J. W. Million spoke in Moberly Sunday to mass meetings. They delivered addresses in behalf of local option campaign in progress in that city.

Entertain in Auxvauze. Mrs. A. K. Adams invited seven youngsters, all school and playmates of Master George Francis Adams, to come help celebrate the young man's tenth birthday yesterday afternoon. Bobbing for apples and "filling up" on good things dealt to the hearts of little boys passed the time away. The favors were orange baskets filled with marshmallows. Mrs. Adams was assisted by Mrs. A. O. Adams of Mexico and Mrs. Glen Tolson-Auxvauze Review.

MRS. ADA DORRANCE DEAD. Mrs. Ada Dorrance, 48 years old, mother of Mrs. Cortez Edmonston, of this city, died Saturday at the home of her mother, in Los Angeles, Cal. She had been suffering with a complication of troubles for some time, though her death at this time was unexpected.

Besides Mrs. Edmonston, her only child, Mrs. Dorrance leaves her mother, Mrs. J. F. Rowins and a brother, Marvin D. of Brunswick, Mo. Mrs. Dorrance was a devoted member of the Baptist church and an active worker in its behalf. She was a prominent D. A. R. and had many friends in Mexico. The burial was in California. The Ledger joins friends in extending sincerest sympathy to Mrs. Edmonston over the loss of her mother.

Stock Notes

St. Louis, Oct. 28.—"From all I can learn at this time not many cotton mules are going on feed in Missouri," remarked E. F. Bissau, vice-president of the St. Louis National Stock Yards. "I think this is a mistake, as Missouri farmers who have the facilities for finishing mules this season have the best prospects ahead of them in years. Cotton feeders can be picked up at fairly reasonable figures and feed is plentiful and cheaper than for some time."

"Moreover, the South is short on mules this year. They bought practically nothing to restock during the entire year of 1914, and the first half of 1915. Then, too, a great many mules were taken from the South the past year to go to Europe. Taking these factors into consideration there is every reason to believe that the South will be an unusually heavy buyer of good fat cotton mules in the North this winter. Unless indications fail, I believe St. Louis will have one of the best cotton mule trades in its existence. The South is now revealing in 1915 cotton which is double what it brought last year. Even if cotton goes no higher than it is at present, current prices are enough to justify a heavy demand for mules."

"It looks to me as if every Corn Belt feeder who is in a position to finish cotton mules for the winter trade, ought to get busy at once. Indications are that prime fat mules will not be scarce and they are the ones that will bring a premium over the other kind."

Considine and Pollock are well pleased with the sale near Auxvauze Wednesday, October 27. It is estimated that more than $7,000 worth of stock was sold.

Among other things that sold at a good price were 18 steers to Wesley Allen at $25.50 each. He also bought 13 steers for $12.00 and 20 yearlings at $50.00 per head.

O. Bonall paid $400 for a span of four-year-old mare mules. B. Winn bought a pair of old mules for $270.

One of the largest crowds that have attended any of the recent sales was at Considine and Pollock's. The weather was ideal and everything was favorable for a good sale.

R. E. Biggs, three miles east of Auxvauze, lost a fine brood mare from an unknown disease last week. Mr. Biggs says the top mule of the bunch he recently sold to Eugene Blakemore, of Tennessee, was the offspring of this mare. Tom Bass Henderson, up northwest of Auxvauze, also lost a horse last week.

Probably the biggest pumpkin in the world was raised near Petersburg, in Menard County, Ill., this year. The pumpkin weighs 128 pounds. It is 31 inches long and 58 inches in circumference.

After it had obtained a good start all the other pumpkins were removed from the vine and no more vines permitted to grow. The vine just beyond the pumpkin was cut off and the inserted in a bottle of milk. The pumpkin thus obtained nourishment from two sources, the roots and the milk.

LADY Eglantine's record in the North American egg-laying contest is now 311 eggs in 361 days. Isn't it wonderful how her work has become self-making in America?

A creep should be provided in the pasture so that calves may have access to gain without being disturbed by cows, as it is very important to start beef calves on grain before they are weaned. They may be kept in a separate lot into which the cows are turned twice a day, if this method is preferred. In this case there will be no need for creepers or anything else to keep cows from the grain which may be fed at such times that the cows will not disturb the calves.

The calves may be started on a mixture of two parts of shelled corn to one part of oats by weight. The oats may be gradually reduced until none is being fed at the end of eight weeks, but while this is being done a little oil process linseed oil meal or cottonseed meal should be added and the quantity gradually increased until it makes up about a seventh of the weight of the ration. On full feed calves should eat about two pounds of grain for every hundred pounds of live weight in addition to good roughage. Wellbred calves handled in this way should be in prime condition at the end of about ten or twelve months.—H. O. Allison, University of Missouri, College of Agriculture.

There is a striking similarity between this sale and the one Mr. Harrison made Tuesday when he marketed an equal number at $10.30. This bunch weighed 2 pounds to the steer less than the string he marketed Thursday.—Live Stock Reporter.

A larger net return per ton of manure was secured from applications to timothy meadow land than to corn, oats, or wheat in rotation in a twenty-five year test at the Missouri Experiment Station. In experiments conducted on fields in nearly every section of the state the use of from six to eight tons of barnyard manure per acre once or twice each four year rotation gave annual returns of from $1.60 to $4.10 each year for each ton applied.

Even heavier applications than the supply on the average farm would have proved financially profitable. From a field which received seven tons per acre each year, 3.4 tons of timothy hay were cut July 1, 1915, and a second crop of 2.8 tons on September 15 of the same year or a total of 6.2 tons per acre as compared with 1.9 tons on an adjoining field similarly cropped, but unfertilized. On both fields the cropping had continued a quarter of a century without change of condition.

The abundant rainfall this year made possible yields that would not be obtained during years when lack of moisture limited the use of the land could make of such abundant plant food, but these tests show that even in ordinary years the manure can be well as well as the corn as has generally been believed.—C. A. Leclair, University of Missouri, College of Agriculture.
